November 2026

Hello November!

You might not know it from the weather, but it's officially time to move the clocks back and reclaim that extra hour & watch the gorgeous colours all around us! I finished The Calamity Club book too!

This month has been INSANE and we wouldn't have it any other way. I got to present a bit about me to the London Executives Association and my LEA Remember a Member podcast is really starting to take off!

My London LeadTribes (RISE) group took the afternoon off before Thanksgiving to collect food for the London Food Bank. We spread ourselves out between 4 locations and really worked hard. Teamwork makes the dream work!

I officially started my role helping to bring more Improv to London, and especially the business community. I am so excitited! Brandon Rudd gave our LeadTribes group a mini workshop to see how fantastic improv really can be.

We had some awesome family time, as Brett's mother turned 75 and our daughter Claire turned 19! We haven't been out downtown for a while…and it was definitely interesting!

Brett spoke at the London Chamber of Commerce Summit about the leadership and perserverence and I was cheering him on from the front row 😊 Go Brett Go!

Annnd I was able to attend the Royal LePage National Sales Conference in Niagara Falls and even presented my own breakout session showing my colleagues how I launched, and sustain, my leadership podcast, The #RealtorLife Success Show.

We have had some amazing guests and I am so grateful for the opportunity to continue inspiring and encouraging fellow entrepreneurs and REALTORS®

Don't forget to give a wave if you drive by my Summerside Bench on Commissoners Road E 😊 We're changing up the picture soon and I am pretty excited!

Your friend in the business,

YOUR #HomeSweetHome 519 REALTOR® Krystal Lee Moore
