February 2019

FEBRUARY IS MY FAVOURITE MONTH...EVEN MORE SO NOW!

Happy February Beautiful People!

As many of you know already, my favourite month of the year is my birthday month 😊 It's not the best for weather all the time LOL but it IS the month that I always notice that days getting longer.

For my birthday, I was surprised with a trip to Nashville, TN for the weekend and it was absolutely amazing! We explored, we ate, we drank and we danced the night away...

And THEN came the biggest surprise of all. Brett surprised me with a lock engraved with our names and the date to put on the pedestrian bridge. Once it was locked onto the bridge, he got down on one knee and asked me to spend the rest of my life with him.

I said YES!! Or at least I nodded emphatically...I was too overwhelmed with happiness to speak right away 😊

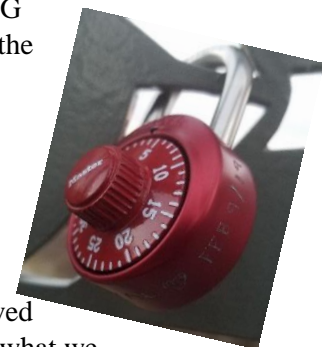

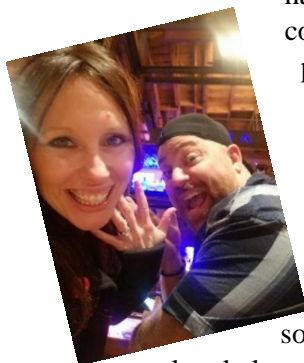

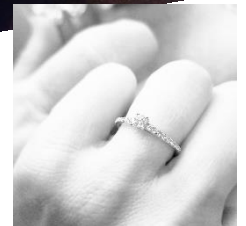

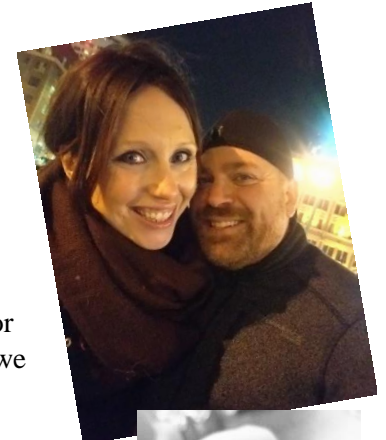

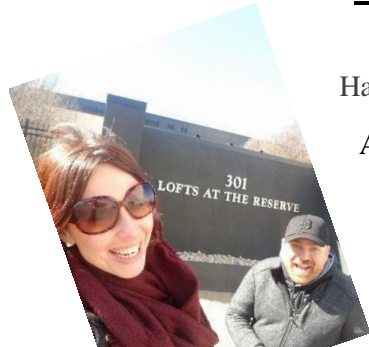

In other news, I officially became a Real Estate Broker on January 31st and have been enjoying working hard in both the Guelph and London markets with the help of my AMAZING colleagues who make it possible for me to do both and still give my clients the phenomenal experience they deserve.

My favourite gym closed its doors at the location nearest to me at the end of the year as well – so Brett and I decided to make the switch to Movati – which is actually closer! I am absolutely loving it so far – especially the location, classes and hot tub 😊

The overwhelming amount of support, love and happiness we have received so far about our engagement, my birthday and my Brokers' license confirm what we already knew: We have the most amazing network of friends, family, colleagues and clients and are so incredibly grateful and Blessed.

Your friend in the business,
